Letters . . .

Editor, The Pine Cone:

August 29, 1957

Of course, we should join in a Monterey Peninsula Junior College District, to carry our just share of the cost of its maintenance. To explain why, I want to reveal some facts I just gathered for an entirely different purpose.

Assessed Valuation of Property per Child in Elementary School:

Carmel	$35,846
Monterey (without Seaside)	13,500
Pacific Grove	8,134
Seaside (without Monterey)	3,200

Knowing these facts, and living in the Carmel area, I shall, in the future always feel like a selfish miser when I drive through Seaside and recall that its people are being taxed to maintain the Junior College, but I and my neighbors are not. That is, I shall do so, if we do not join the College District.

Of course, Carmel doubtless sends fewer students to the Junior College than some other Peninsula areas. We send more students to what are known as better colleges. We can afford to. Seaside also sends fewer students to the Peninsula College; but for a different reason. They can't afford to.

If Seaside can help maintain the Junior College, we, with more than 11 times the wealth in relation to our educational problem, can afford to do so, too. In fact, we should, as good citizens of the Monterey Peninsula.

I don't like taxes any more than than others. But I don't want to escape them at the expense of people much less able to pay them than I. I think all lucky Carmel people should feel that way.

—Zenas L. Potter.

Editor, the Pine Cone:

There seems to be a misconception, even among many thinking people, that Carmel—right now, and for years past—has not been paying anything to support the Monterey Junior College. Carmel has paid, is paying, and will continue to pay for the support of the Monterey Junior College no matter whether Carmel stays out of the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district or whether it joins such a district.

Not only has Carmel paid for the support of the Monterey College; not only is it now paying for that support; not only will it continue to pay—but it has, is, and will continue to pay plenty. The payment called a county junior college tax rate—has no specific relationship to how many or how few students from Carmel happen to attend the junior college in Monterey. It is based on assessed valuation. The tax is now 26 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, and it is going to increase a year from now by about a third or more, even if we stay out of the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district.

Because of the relatively few students it sends to the Monterey College, Carmel is now paying an amount approaching a thousand dollars a year for each one, and that's nearly twice the actual per-pupil costs of furnishing education at the college. A year from now, because of a new state law, Carmel is going to be paying a good deal more per student—and that's without ever joining the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district.

So Carmel has paid, is paying, and will continue to pay plenty for the support of the Monterey Col-

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM McVEY

BY CAROLYN ELSTOB

Headlined across the nation last week was the news that Congress had passed and sent to the White House for the President's signature, a 352-million dollar Atomic Energy Construction Bill. Six million dollars in the appropriation go for two Reactors, one for Hanford, Washington, the other for Idaho Falls.

Since its wartime beginning Atomic Energy Construction has been shrouded in mystery, in Security Zones, closed and secret.

From the beginning of time "It's a secret" has been the most tantalizing little phrase ever spoken, and here indeed is a colossal secret that touches the lives of us all.

Just what does happen in a Security Zone? What is a Reactor? Plutonium? Uranium? U-235?

When I learned a few days ago that William McVey, Ph.D. physical chemist, who had worked since 1943 in National Security Zones, had come with his young family to live in Carmel, I couldn't rest until I found out whether or not he could tell anything, just anything at all, that in the telling would not conflict with his professional integrity and dedicated patriotism. He had spent years at Hanford and Idaho Falls.

The McVey's have a lovely new home in Mission Fields. Last evening, over countless cups of coffee, I listened to Dr. McVey's story of research and progress in the nation's great Atomic Energy Zones. "Unclassified information" was his term for the facts he gave, I found it all far more thrilling than any space-ship yarn you could possibly conjure.

Born in Falls City, Nebraska, shortly before his parents moved to Fresno "Bill" McVey had his early schooling in Fresno. He majored in physical chemistry at the University of California. Upon graduation with a B.S. in 1943 he was all but actually wearing his Navy blues, for his stint in the service, when he was selected to do special research with the Manhattan District Project, (the code name given the Atomic Bomb project at the University of California). In the U.C. Radiation laboratories his research on the chemistry of plutonium, a fissionable material, was indeed secret. The young chemist worked 'round the clock, cramming, in the few hours alloted him for sleep, for his Ph.D which was awarded him in the Spring of 1948.

"During those five years in Berkeley," Dr. McVey told me, "I was studying the chemistry of radio-active Pu-239, and in my micro equipment my precious

Blood Drawing Set For Sept. 12, Local Quota Now 120 Pints

The regular scheduled Carmel blood drawing will take place on Thursday, September 12, at the Red Cross Chapter House. The hours will be from 10:00 until 1:30 o'clock and appointments can be made by calling the Red Cross, MA 4-6921 or MA 4-6455. Those persons who responded to the special drawing held in July will not be eligible to give their blood at this time, but will be accepted at the December drawing.

The number of pints of blood drawn in Carmel in past years has never been sufficient to cover that used in the Peninsula Community Hospital by our local residents, according to Miss Helen Heavey, recruiting chairman. The blood center in San Jose has always supplied without quibble all blood needed locally. Since the Carmel community is not alone in this growing use of blood, the ten Red

Enrollment Up 93 In Carmel Schools, Total 1326 Students

Ninety-three more pupils than last year are attending the four Carmel schools, according to records in the office of Superintendent Stuart Mitchell on Wednesday afternoon. Total enrollment for Woods, River, Sunset and the High School is 1326 students. The increase is expected to rise above 93 pupils next Tuesday when the schools reopen after the Admission Day holiday week end.

Largest attendance growth is at River School where 57 more pupils are in the kindergarten through fourth grade classes; second largest growth of 35 pupils is a Woods school in the same grades. The High School has 25 more students with 16 more known to be returning within the next few weeks. Sunset enrollment in fifth through eighth grades has dropped by 24 pupils. However, Sunset's figure is expected to rise next week as illness is keeping pupils already registered from attending classes.

Right-To-Work Petition Is Held Confidential

At last night's meeting the city council instructed City Attorney John Morse to be prepared to advise them at the October meeting if it is within their jurisdiction to pass a "right-to-work" ordinance.

Instead of the expected petition of 1200 signatures, a letter signed by one individual had to serve the council as a cause for action.

Admiral C. W. Fisher, representing the "right-to-work" citizens committee, had the petition in hand, and kept it there, when the council would not assure him that the names of the signers would be held confidential.

Some of the signers had been threatened with union reprisal, Admiral Fisher said. He had promised that only the council would see the signatures.

Mayor Horace Lyon explained that any official communication to the council automatically becomes a matter of public record.

Attorney Morse suggested that the petition be withheld until he had given his report at the October meeting.

Councilman Francis Whitaker thought the council should not ask for legal advice until it had the petition.

Admiral Fisher said the council could act on one name as well as 1200 and called to their attention a letter they had, signed by one of the committee's representatives.

Councilman Carl Patnude said, "These people have made their point. There's enough public interest to justify our referring it to the city attorney. Mayor Lyon and Councilman John Chitwood agreed, but Mayor Lyon refused to allow Admiral Fisher to speak in favor of "right-to-work" legislation.

If the city attorney finds such an ordinance within the jurisdiction of the council, the council will

Mayor Lyon Casts Lone "No" Vote On Three TV Amplifiers

Mayor Lyon protested granting permission to the Alarm Corporation, cable television company, to place three television amplifier boxes above ground, two old ones that are to be "disinterred" and a new one installed.

"I heard it stated that eventually they intend to put all the amplifier boxes above ground. If we approve these three we do so with the understanding that step by step we are destroying the intent of our ordinance. Only in distress cases should the amplifiers be above ground."

When a former city council granted the television company a franchise, they stipulated in an ordinance that all cables and amplifiers be underground. The ordinance, over Mayor Lyon's and Francis Whitaker's no was amended later to allow amplifiers to be put above ground in special cases when heat or water created difficulties with the underground installations. The company must obtain council approval for the means of screening the above ground amplifiers.

Last night Mayor Lyon backed

School Board Chairman To Moderate Meeting On Junior College Question

School Board Chairman Gordon Campbell will be moderator for the public meeting on the Junior College Question called for 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday night, in Sunset Auditorium.

Gene Harrah will speak for the citizens committee of seven.

The issue: Whether the Carmel School District shall participate with Monterey and Pacific Grove in forming a junior college district, or remain independent and continue to send its students to junior colleges of their choice under the tax-tuition provision.

The meeting has been called at the request of the citizens committee which recommended, with one dissenting vote, that the board commit the Carmel District to the junior college district, but stated through its chairman, August Nieto, that it could not speak for the taxpayers at large. The committee apparently had in mind that the school board could get some assessment of public opinion from the public meeting but Mr. Campbell told the Pine Cone this week that he doubted the board could get an accurate estimate of public sentiment in this way. He does not think he will call for a show of hands. "The meeting will be informative," he said.

PADRE RED AND GRAY GAME NEXT WEDNESDAY

Carmel High School players will get their first taste of full-team scrimmage next Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the annual Red and Gray game is contested at Bardarson Field. This game divides the varsity squad down the middle and adds the larger and more experienced players from the junior varsity squad. Teams are chosen to match them as equal as possible and the game is played with all the trimmings of a regular season game. League officials will be blowing the whistles in order to acquaint the gridders with the 1957 version of the football code.

The Red squad will be captained by Joe Mason, last year's co-captain of the Padre varsity and an all-league guard, who is starting his fourth year of football for Carmel High. Lew McCreery, former Padre grid great, will be the mentor for the Red team. The Reds will go with a starting unit of Pat Harney and Phil White at the ends, Fred Nelson and Phil Durbrow at the tackles, Captain Mason and Neil Giarratana at the guards, Dave Vincent at the center spot, Gary Bradburn and Rodney Phillips at halfbacks, Bob Goldwater at fullback, and Ted Smith holding the throttle at the quarterback spot. Red reserves will be Alf Anderson and Jamie Holman, ends, Bill Myrick and Norman Colman, tackles, Doug McClurg and George Blanks, guards, Steve Gann, center, Tim Smith, quarterback, Jim Lee and Tim O'Shea, halfbacks, and Mike Marquard, fullback.

Art Wilkerson, an all-league end last season, will captain the Gray squad under the coaching direction of Don Craig, varsity line coach. The Grays offer a solid starting unit of Bill Hicks and Captain Wilkerson at the ends, Alan Eaker and Sam Farr at the tackles, Mike Raggett and Mal Burdis at the guards, powerful Parker Pollock at center, Dennis Peavey and Tony Bingham at halfbacks, Andy Gray at fullback, and Cim Conway calling the plays at the quarterback slot. Capable reserves ready to fill in for the Grays are Robin Way and Claude Friscovich, ends; Doug McCauley and Hal Gregerson, tackles; John Morse, guard and linebacker; Harrison Hilbert, center; Craig Smith, quarterback; Chips Wood and Ron Faia, halfbacks, and Dare Conroy, fullback.

A look at the two squads indicates that the Gray squad has a slight edge in the rushing department with Andy Gray and Dennis Peavey packing the mail on offense. However, the Red unit appears to be slightly stronger on defense with a pair of sturdy tackles, Fred Nelson and Phil Durbrow, leading the way. Both Ted Smith and Cim Conway are adept forward passers and the ends on both squads are rated as above-average pass receivers so it is likely that the big gainers will come from the passing game.

Wednesday's game starts at 3:00 o'clock and the public is invited free of charge.

CCAL GRID PROSPECTS

After a week of practice, reports leaking out of the prep practice fields of the Coast Counties Athletic League indicate that Monterey High is a solid favorite to finish on top of the A-Division standings while the B-Division is a three-way toss-up among defending champion Hollister, Carmel, and Pacific Grove. Monterey rates the favorite role on the strength of a veteran ball club plus the magic of quarterback Claude Crabb. The Toreadores have veterans of league experience at every position and have inherited some lightweights with three year's experience. In Crabb, Monterey boasts the top football prospect in the CCAL and, perhaps, in Northern California. Claude was injured the latter part of last season but is in tip-top shape now and ready to make life miserable for opposing tacklers when the season opens. Monterey's big opposition should come from the Watsonville Wildcats who are always tough to beat in the A-Divisfon. Larry Siemering's Santa Cruz Cardinals, 1956 champions, lost heavily by graduation but under the astute coaching of the ex-college great, the Cardinals could again be the surprise of the league. Scouts report that Santa Cruz has the best passing quarterback in the league. Salinas, with a clean sweep in the coaching department, hopes to improve over last year's mediocre season but the Cowboys don't seem to have the horses to run down the likes of Monterey, Watsonville, and Santa Cruz.

In the B-Division, Hollister High will again boast a sturdy forward wall capable of handling the smaller lines of the other teams in the league. Besides a line which averages close to 200 pounds per man, the Haybalers have fullback Jerry Grant who is the top linebuster in the circuit. Carmel, runner-up to Hollister last year, comes back with 13 lettermen plus a good crop of junior-varsity performers and two useful transfers. The Padres will have a swift mobile line, a slow backfield, and six rangy ends who know how to catch a football. Lack of speed may hurt the local preps but they may compensate by a determined desire to win. Pacific Grove, hit heavy by graduation, has been blessed by good transfers who have pushed the Breakers into co-favorite position for the title.

Action for all teams in the CCAL will take place September 13th when the annual CCAL Football Jamboree is held at the Salinas High Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

"That's Enough! That's Enough! We Can't Get It All In The Car"

Here's a cheap way to supply your home with water. Cheap, that is, in a money sense, but expensive in time and labor.

And consider these two points: You can't possibly supply all your family's needs with a water system of this kind; nor can you be assured that the water that you take home is safe.

Modern water systems, such as the one which serves this area, brings to your home—day in and day out—an abundant supply of good safe water, at the proper pressure, fast and inexpensively.

Mrs. Stewart

Mrs. Catherine R. Stewart of Rancho Canada de la Segunda in Carmel Valley died on Monday evening in a local hospital after a period of failing health. She was born on October 6, 1881, near Hutchinson, Minnesota, and graduated from St. Luke's Hospital in St. Paul, Minnesota, as a registered nurse in 1906.

Mrs. Stewart was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Abraham H. Roseboom of Carmel, and came here to live in 1911. After nursing in Carmel for a year she married the late Andrew Stewart in St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove in October, 1912.

Following her marriage Mrs. Stewart lived with her husband on his dairy farm, the Mission Ranch, pioneered by Mr. Stewart's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, who came to Monterey County in 1871.

In 1927 Mrs. Stewart moved with her husband to Carmel Valley where they built a home on Rancho Canada de la Segunda in which Mrs. Stewart lived until her last illness. Mr. Stewart died on March 12, 1949.

A vigorous person, Mrs. Stewart had a keen interest in community affairs and served as director of the Bank of Carmel. She travelled extensively with her husband after he retired from active ranching.

She is survived by a daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Stewart of Corral de Tierra.

Private funeral services for family members only were held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea with the Reverend John L. Powell of St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove officiating.

Inurnment followed in the family plot in Cemeterio El Encinal in Monterey.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

lege, as things now stand. But if Carmel doesn't think it's already paying enough to support a junior college which it had no responsibility whatever in establishing, then it can join in the completely unnecessary effort to create a brand-new tax-eating entity—the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district.

If Carmel does that, it will certainly double the junior college tax rate it is now paying, and it might triple it. If the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district is created with Carmel as a participant, an entirely new school-bonding capacity of about six million dollars will be created. If other areas on the Peninsula, with most of the population, should vote for big bond issues for the college, even if Carmel should be solidly against them, they could still carry—and a big new tax load would be saddled on already sagging backs.

I hope that this statement will help to enlighten many right-thinking people who now erroneously think that Carmel is not paying anything to support the junior college in Monterey. It actually is paying plenty!

—Gunnar Norberg.

CARMEL FOUNDATION NOTES

D. H. Lawrence's novel Lady Chatterly's Lover will be discussed by Willard Hougland for the Booklovers at Town House on Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock Mr. Hougland will tell the story of the beginning of the famous English novel of the 1920's and about the publication of its first version. The First Lady Chatterly. Personally known to the author's wife Frieda Lawrence, Mr. Hougland will read unpublished material by D. H. and Frieda Lawrence and exhibit manuscripts and books.

Members of Booklovers are invited to bring friends to the meeting.

On Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Mrs. F. W. Titus will talk at Carmel Foundation Town House on a favorite subject of hers: Curiosities of Money. Afterwards tea will be served.

The September exhibit at Town House is a joint showing by Dan Runyan and Joe Ataide. It may be seen during Town House hours 10:00 to 5:00 o'clock Monday Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Foster

Mrs. Charlotte Hutchinson Foster died on August 29 at her home on Dolores Street near Thirteenth Avenue after a long illness.

She was born in Chicago, Illinois, on October 18, 1869. Her husband, Colonel Clair Foster (USA ret.) died in 1935 in Hisdale, New York, where he and Mrs. Foster maintained a summer home. Until her last illness Mrs. Foster continued to go East each summer returning to Carmel in the fall. She had spent winters in her home on Dolores Street for over 25 years.

Surviving is a cousin, Charles E. Foley of Chicago.

Funeral services were held on Saturday morning in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel followed by cremation in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea crematorium in Pacific Grove.

School Board Chairman To Moderate Meeting On J. C. Question

tion is arranging to hold an advisory election this month which will follow legal election procedure in all respects but will not bind the school board.

The school board, which strongly favors Carmel School District's participation in the junior college district, appointed the committee of seven on July 1, at the request of Carmel district taxpayers who felt that a fact finding group should make a cost study and attempt to evaluate the four conflicting surveys that have been made.

The committee held several meetings, brought in its recommendation, and turned over its minutes to the board in lieu of a report. Gunnar Norberg, one of the committeemen, voted against the recommendation. He said the committee had not done its work or fulfilled its purpose. He attempted to give a minority report when Chairman Nieto brought in his recommendation at the August 5 school board meeting but was cut short by the school board chairman.

At that same meeting Enos Fouratt announced the formation of the Carmel Taxpayers Association and the intention of the group to conduct a poll or election so the school board could be informed as to public sentiment on the issue.

The five member school board has sole power to commit the taxpayers to the junior college district by passing a resolution asking the state board of education to call an election. The election would be district wide and carried by a single majority. Monterey's greater number of voters would control this election and all future bond and over-ride tax elections.

The Taxpayers Association's election, held within the district, will give the Carmel School District voters an opportunity to express their wishes though the school board is not bound by its results.

Dr. McVey Knows First Hand Of Security Zones

specimen was about half the size of a pinhead . . . it is probable that during those days I was exposed to quite a lot of concentrated radio-activity." As an afterthought he added, "So far, no mutations have shown up."

It was in 1946 that William McVey's research findings on the Oxidation states of Plutonium appeared through 11 chapters in The Transuranium Elements, a technical volume of major importance to the whole atomic energy field, compiled by Nobel prize winner, Professor Glenn T. Seaborg. Repeated Presidential appeals were made by the Project to keep Dr. McVey at his laboratory bench where certainly, with no uniform to identify him, his service to his country was unique and invaluable.

But all the hours of all the years in Berkeley were not given to "work". Romance came along in the person of brilliant diminutive young Helene Voyer, graduate of U.C. with a B.A. in chemistry of her own, and acting chemical secretary working on translations to Dr. Seaborg. Helene, the grand-daughter of Daniel McCarthy, owner-editor of the San Leandro Reporter, and William McVey were married in 1948.

As bride and groom the McVeys arrived in the Richland, Washington National Security Zone, where Bill was research chemist working on radiochemical separations with the Atomic Engineering Project. "While Richland was termed an 'open city'," Helene told us, "Bill's work was essential to atomic development and of course everything was secret. It was amazing the speed with which things happened. Richland grew from a tiny town of 500 to a population of 60,000, all within two years. We were all under F.B.I. scrutiny. Loose talk and 'foreign' looking friends from outside were taboo. If there was any espionage, it was certainly strangled before any of us knew of it. Private enterprise was encouraged, (shops, laundries and such) but everything was government supervised."

At this point this interviewer's head was spinning, with uranium, radium, and plutonium. Which was what, and what did they do? Dr. McVey is blest with those characteristics found only in really great scientists and teachers, simplicity in speech, and tolerance toward the uninformed.

"Uranium and radium" he explained, "are elements found in minute quantities in pitchblend. It is probable that a few billion years ago plutonium was to be found too, but today plutonium is termed an aspiring chemical element and we manufacture it. Our most important jobs are done with the experimental nuclear reactors that tell us what these precious elements will do." We learned that the only fissionable element occuring in nature is U-235, used, we believe in the atomic bomb.

"But only those who read as they run can possibly think," Dr. McVey continued, "that we who are giving our lives to the development of atomic energy are concerned only with weapons of destruction. We scientists are looking forward to the day when atomic energy will replace coal petroleum . . . when from fundamental research radio-active Carbon-14 will actually make possible the manufacture of food-stuffs now grown in the soil. Radium, fission products, and specially produced radio-isotopes are already used in curing disease, and in the sterilization of foods. Radio-active elements are successful against the arch-enemy, cancer . . . Certainly, in this unsettled world we must be concerned with the protection of human life, protection of our nation against aggression, but, too, in research and experiment, we give our utmost to human betterment."

After two years in Richmond the McVeys, to their great joy, were called to Berkeley in 1950, to the California Research and Development Corporation. It was in Berkeley, near their Alma Mater, that their first daughter, Margaret, was born. (She is known on our River School campus as Bitsy).

The Berkeley residence lasted only three and a half years, when off the young family went to Idaho Falls where Dr. McVey was assistant section Chief, Chemical Research Section, at the National Reactor Testing Section.

"The Materials Testing Reactor in action generates 40 megawats of heat, equivalent to 16,000 horsepower," Dr. McVey explained. "There were no homes for workers within fifty miles of the Reactor. The unburnt fuel from the nuclear reactor," the core being charged with plutonium or uranium-235, is recovered in the chemical processing plant. The men working there are protected by a five-foot concrete shield and become adept at 'remote operation.' The core material is exceedingly precious, and dangerous."

Despite stretches of weather at 20 degrees below; the 100 mile a day trip for Dr. McVey, and all the restrictions that go along with living in a "Security" area, the McVey family had a happy time, and it was at Idaho Falls that Mary was born.

"And then came the frosting on the cake for us all," smiled the Doctor. "We came to Carmel in May, 1957. It is really like home to Helene and me. Helene's grandfather used to go fishing in Monterey, more than 50 years ago. He was deeply interested in the restoration of the Mission in Carmel and contributed money, and editorial space in his paper. Her mother and father tell amusing tales of visits when Ocean Avenue was 'mostly sand' and when once they were inadvertently locked in their room at Pine Inn and had to attract the driver of a horse and buggy, by shouting through their window, to get unlocked."

"Summers all my life, meant a visit to Carmel," interrupted Helene. "We love our house, we've bought it, and we are going to stay," she declared.

Dr. McVey is now with Technical Operations Incorporated, in Monterey, under U. S. Army contract.

G. O. P. Committee Recommends Strong For Postmastership

Assistant postmaster Fred Strong has been recommended as Carmel postmaster by the Republican Central Committee in a letter sent to Congressman Charles M. Teague. Mr. Strong has been in charge of the Carmel post office since the death of Postmaster Fred J. Mylar in July. So far there are no other candidates for postmaster.

Fred Strong came to Carmel in 1928 and on July 1, 1929, began work as a substitute clerk in the post office.

"The same day as the late William Overstreet (founder of the Pine Cone in 1915) took over his duties as postmaster," says Mr. Strong.

In October of the same year Fred Strong became a regular clerk and advanced to assistant postmaster on September 1, 1953.

During the years he has worked in the post office he has served, besides William Overstreet, under postmistress Mrs. Irene Cator; postmaster Ernest Bixler; acting postmaster Fred Bechdolt, in Mr. Bixler's absence in the war years; acting postmaster Alfred Mollner; and the late Fred Mylar. Following Mr. Mylar's death, he automatically, as assistant postmaster, took over postmaster duties.

Mr. Strong has been married for 26 years to the former Frances Ricketts. He is a Republican and attended the College of the Pacific in Stockton before coming to Carmel to live 29 years ago.

SHOWCASE SMASHED

Carmel police found the showcase in front of the Tuck Box restaurant on Dolores Street smashed at 1:00 o'clock this morning. Investigation showed that reproductions of antique jewelry had been removed.

John Grandfield, owner of the restaurant and showcase, is in Canada and value of the loss cannot be estimated at present.

Forest Theater Production of 'Dream' Proves To Be All The Name Implies

By Karen Bryant

Take one of Shakespeare's best loved fantasies, add a capable cast under the direction of Herbert Heron, put them together in the lovely natural setting of the Forest Theater, and you come up with a fine evening's entertainment.

Carmel is indeed fortunate in its possession of this outdoor theater. In this, its 24th Shakespearean production, it again proves how perfectly it is suited to the color and pageantry of Shakespeare. The audience becomes aware of its magic even before the play begins, as they sit in the dark amphitheatre under the night sky. And when the lights come up on the stage, A Midsummer-Night's Dream is all its name implies, as it sparkles from one whimsical situation to the next.

The four lovers are led into their amusing confusion by Puck, delightfully played with true elfin charm by Elizabeth Graves. There is marvelous contrast between dark and wistfully charming Karen Silvear, who plays Hermia, and spirited and lively Nancy Lofton, as Helena. Physically, these two were perfectly cast, and Shakespeare's lines prove this point. Although their interpretations differ slightly from the conventional idea of these roles, this does not detract from the enjoyment of their performances. The two handsome males of the quartet are Demetrius, well played by Edwin Craig, and Lysander, performed with equal skill by Anthony White.

Herbert Heron again showed his skill in casting when he selected Renee Wurzmann as Titania, Queen of the Fairies. Her dance was lovely to watch, and her sweet voice and graceful movements were well complimented by the dignity and poise of Christopher Jones as Oberon, King of the Fairies.

The clowns, those "hard handed men of Athens," were enacted with humor by Jared Mays, Jack James, Cecil Smith, James Campbell, Ronald Leiber, and Herbert Heron, (substituting for Jerry Stuefloten, who will be in this week's production.) As Pyramus and Thisbe in the play within a play, Leiber and Heron provided a high point in the comedy. Bud Houghton as the noble Theseus, and Janet Barson as Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons, lent regal splendor to their scenes. Stubborn Egeus was played by Ron Bostwick, and Philostrate, Master of the Revels, by Gracecarol Bostwick.

Weaving throughout the "Dream" were almost a score of little elves and fairies, played uninhibitedly by Ginger Laky, Carol Heisel, Joy Monteagle, Gay Monteagle, Shiela Moore, Andrea Wurzmann, Susan Campbell, Margaret Decker, Kathy Goulding, Philip Goulding, Roberta Goulding, Kayte Maxey, Linda Murray, Dale Sampson, Diane Sampson, Jackie Sampson, Kelly Steele, and Tigel Steele. Completing this large and well rehearsed cast were Robert Stephenson as the Changeling Boy, and Niki Budd, Judy Hensel, Mary Martin, Patricia Taplin and Eleanor White as courtiers.

The famous Forest Theater is a natural for this play, and it was enhanced by the lovely woodland set, which drew applause from the opening night audience. Credit should most certainly go to Hazel McLellan for the colorful and well executed costumes. The choreography was in the skilled hands of Frank Bourman. Lighting, in charge of Roland Scheffler, and music by Mausita Jennings completed the charm of the production. (And hurray to Eric Borg for his wonderous creation, the ass head!) Mr. Heron and his assistants, Blanche Tolmie and Bud Houghton, have given us a most enjoyable production. A Midsummer-Night's Dream plays again this week end, September 5, 6, and 7th, with the curtain at 8:30 p.m.

Next Wednesday's luncheon speaker at the Carmel Rotary Club, which meets at La Playa Hotel, is new District Governor Horace L. Dormody, a Carmel resident.

The preceding evening he will meet with officers, directors, and committee chairmen of the Carmel club at an assembly to be held in the library of the Carmel High School.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

The library has been getting more publicity than usual, which is all right because we should hate to be ignored. You might be surprised to learn that we get a great many more complaints on the free-wheeling writing of today than we do on our rather conservative buying. When we get slapped from both sides, we think we must be about in the middle of the road, and that is where we want to be.

Modern literature is like modern painting and modern music. It is what it is. If you do not like it, you can always enjoy things done in the more conservative fashion, and there is always plenty of the conservative materials in every field. You just have to learn what to look for. If you get a book you do not like, don't finish it. Bring it back and take another. You can't reform everybody, but you can enjoy what you like.

There is a point at which the would-be-discriminating buyer stops to think. Some titles seem to us rental library titles. You will be able to get them there. From now on when we decide not to buy a certain popular title we will post reviews on our bulletin board which led us to our decision. These reviews you may read and form your own conclusions.

Decisions as to which books to buy for this library come from five sources, and are like the fingers of a hand which unite to form a palm. One finger is the Book Committee. It is made up of five book loving citizens who meet once a month to discuss new books from the library standpoint. They come to the meetings armed with typed reviews, and solid ideas about books. Their recommendations are not only valuable but they are also not replaceable by any other form of citizen representation. Every library needs this close harmonious relationship with good readers.

The second finger is the library staff. Once a month the weekly staff meeting is given over to the discussion of new books, and like the Book Committee, the staff comes to the meetings armed with reviews and recommendations.

The third finger is a meeting held every other week in Salinas which is attended by your Librarian. Other librarians attending the meeting are those from Salinas Public Library and the Monterey County Library. It is at these meetings that books are ordered for the Carmel collection of County Library books.

The fourth finger is composed of suggestions from our box kept at the circulation desk. These suggestions come from the library patrons and indicate reader interest.

The fifth finger is the review reading done by this Librarian. For this we use popular review media as well as those designed for librarians only. Included in this last category is the Virginia Kirkus Review Service which reviews from galley proofs about three months ahead of publication. We also use the ALA Booklist, which comes out about two months after publication. In between we have the Library Journal which publishes reviews on cards which come once a month and are about level with publication date or perhaps a little to the rear. These three review publications have nothing to gain by their reviews, and as a result the reviews are impartial and unsparing. When you have only service to sell, you can swing wide and let you know who take the hindmost.

After all these recommendations are in, are checked against outstanding orders and our own card catalog, we do the agonizing job of sorting and deciding. It isn't easy. It is important. We do make mistakes. But we try.

Dan Searle Invites Munich Mayor To Oktoberfest

Mayor Dan Searle of Monterey has invited the Mayor of Munich, Germany, to attend the Monterey Oktoberfest which will take place at Soldier's Club, Fort Ord, October 11, 12, and 13. The Mayor of Munich may not be able to attend but he will know what Mayor Dan Searle means by Oktoberfest. Munich has been holding this fall festival since 1810, and the Monterey Oktoberfest follows the German pattern with Lowenbrau Beer, folk dancing, German Bands and singing.

Put on by the officers and men of the former Fifth Division, the local Oktoberfest has two functions: to provide a rousing good time for the festival-minded Monterey Peninsula people, and to raise funds for the seven German Orphanages the Fifth took under its wing when it was stationed in Germany.

Dr. Smith Likes Landscaping

Dr. S. G. Smith, research geneticist for the Canadian department of forestry, visited Carmel last week with Mrs. Smith. He was interested in seeing the Monterey pine and cypress in their native habitat and most impressed with the landscaping along the streets and in front of business district buildings.

Dr. Smith is in the United States for a year doing research on evolution at the University of California in Berkeley. He delivered two papers at the American Association of Biological Sciences national meetings at Stanford last week.

Leave for College and Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Chaffey (Marian "Bee" Williams) started the back to college migration on Tuesday when they left for Cambridge, Massachusetts, where Ben begins second year studies at Harvard Medical School and Bee enters her last year at Radcliffe College. They have been spending the summer at Carmel Highlands with Bee's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams.

Before classes commence Ben and Bee go to Fairmont, West Virginia, for the wedding of Dr. John Michael Criley (Bee's cousin) and Mary Ellen McCloskey on September 14.

Dr. Criley, a frequent visitor to Carmel, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Criley Jr. of Claremont and a graduate of both Stanford University and Stanford Medical School. He is now a resident physician in internal medicine at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. His future bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lambert Girard McCloskey of Fairmont.

No Carmadon At Home This Month

Mrs. Grace Howden will not be at home on the second Sunday in September but will continue her informal gatherings on the second Sunday afternoon of October. The September at home at Carmadon is abandoned due to the fact that so many of Mrs. Howden's friends are busy at this season of the year with school opening and relating activities.

Mrs. Stilwell Opens Ord. Housing

Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell of Carmel, wife of the late General Joseph W. Stilwell, will present the first keys of occupancy to Master Sergeant James A. Wasson and his family on September 6 at the official opening of Stilwell Park, Fort Ord's Capehart Housing Development, first such project on the West coast.

The housing development is named Stilwell Park in honor of General Joseph W. Stilwell, Fort Ord's first commanding general and hero of Burma and the Far East during World War II.

Sydney Tice To Marry

Reuben Tice of Carmel Valley has announced the engagement of his daughter Sydney to Lieutenant Michael F. West of Fort Ord. The young couple are planning to be married on November 9 in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Carmel Valley.

Sydney graduated from Carmel High School, and spent six months traveling in Europe before attending the University of California. She is employed at present by the Firestone Guided Missile Research Laboratory. Her sisters are Mrs. George Curby and Mrs. William L. Smith of Del Monte Park and Hazel Tice of Carmel Valley. Her brother is Richard Tice of Santa Barbara.

Lieutenant West is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack J. West of McLean, Virginia, and has one sister, Miss Mary Ellen West of McLean. He graduated from Falls Church High School before attending the United States Military Academy at West Point from which he graduated in 1956.

Karen Begins Design Career

Karen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Johnson, has been studying fashion designing at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, for the past two years since she graduated from Carmel High School.

This summer, on a visit here with her parents, she applied to enter the training program of the Rose Marie Reid firm, makers of women's bathing suits. After an inview Karen was accepted and on September 16 will be in Los Angeles in the firm's pattern drafting room, first step in working towards being a designer for the company.

Audubon Meeting, Trip, Tours

The first meeting this season of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society is tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in Carmel High School Library when Mrs. James Moody, club scholarship holder, will tell about her experiences at Audubon summer camp at Norden in the Sierra and Mrs. Mary Ruff will show colored slides of gannets and wild flowers.

Screen tour chairman Abbott Silva will announce to members that films for the Eleventh local screen tour season are Forgotten Country by Bert Harwell on October 29; Adventure in Africa with Murl Deusing on November 30; Yukon Indian Summer by Cleveland Grant on January 16; Penguin Summer by Olin Sewall Pettingill, Jr., on February 11; and Monsoon Mosaic with Telford H. Work on April 29.

First Audubon field trip for the season will be a boat trip arranged by Leavitt McQuesten on Tuesday morning. Those attending are asked to be at the Santa Cruz wharf at 7:00 o'clock in the morning. Destination of the field trip is a location 12 miles off shore to observe gray whales and a large variety of ocean birds.

Pillsburys Off To Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Pillsbury of Pebble Beach sail on September 13 on the President Cleveland for Honolulu. They are taking their small foreign car with them and plan to tour the Hawaiian Islands for a month before returning to the mainland aboard the President Wilson about October 20.

Sun, Chess For Hendricks Family

Georgia Loring Bamford of Carmel entertained her cousin, Wade Hendricks, and his wife Rosemary and their two children, Tara and Johnny, over the Labor Day week end. The Hendricks family make their home in Rancho Buri-Buri in South San Francisco. Mr. Hendricks competed at the California Open Chess Tournament in Monterey while his family spent three days enjoying the hospitality of their hostess and Carmel Beach. With them was their step-aunt, Augie Brown Hendricks, of San Francisco and mother of Harrison Brown of the Saturday Review and the California Tech faculty. On Labor Day the visitors were guests at dinner of Nelo Drizari, president of the local California Writers Club.

Jim Bannerman Leaves

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bannerman had a dinner party on Tuesday evening for their son Jim before they put him on the plane for Los Angeles on his way to San Diego to join his ship the heavy cruiser USS Los Angeles. Jim sailed on Tuesday for a six months' cruise which will take him to Hawaii and Australia as an apprentice seaman, first duty in two years' naval service.

Present at the farewell dinner party were Jim's two sisters, Arline Bannerman, and Mrs. Edward Seifert with her husband and two children, Alison and Hal; Bonnie and Beck Shaefer and Mary Elstob.

"Jim was happy he had shot his buck this season," said Mrs. Bannerman, "he's a hunter and he got the deer on a trip with his father before he left."

Grace Ray

Mrs. Grace Frances Ray died yesterday afternoon at the home of her niece, Mrs. Robert Forbes, with whom she had made her home for the past ten and a half years.

Mrs. Ray was born on March 9, 1880, in Chicago, Illinois. Her husband Ralph Ray died in 1946.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Forbes, are a sister, Mrs. Mabel Waylett, a nephew, Donald Waylett, and a grandniece Bookie Waylett, all of Chicago; and four grandnephews, Rob, Scott, Ted and Ralph Forbes of Carmel.

Funeral services conducted by the Reverend Joseph Ewing of the Carmel Presbyterian Church will be on Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Paul Mortuary Chapel followed by burial in El Carmelo Cemetery in Pacific Grove.

No For Pink Elephant Yes For Hearthstone Appeals Board Rules

It was learned yesterday that the state appeals board has sustained the city's protest against the locating of the Pink Elephant liquor store at Sixth and Torres Street, across the street from the residence district. But the board said yes to the location of the Hearthstone restaurant and bar on Sixth Street, opposite Devendorf Plaza and less than a block from the proposed Pink Elephant location.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board had earlier granted both license transfers. The city appealed the Pink Elephant decision on the grounds that it was in violation of a city zoning ordinance, which the ABC board had ruled invalid.

The Hearthstone location had been protested by citizens on the grounds that is was too near the park, where children frequently play, and the Presbyterian church, which is a block away, across the park.

Mona Going To Europe

Mona Williams leaves the end of this month for a trip abroad which will keep her away from Carmel until just before Christmas. First Mona goes to New York to see publishers, friends and relatives then plans to sail for France on October 8 on the Caronia.

In Le Havre she will be met by her son, Chris, who has been in Europe for the past two years stationed at Heidelberg. Together Chris and Mona will drive to Italy, the only European country which Chris has not explored as yet.

After seeing Italy Mona will return to Heidelberg with Chris and visit friends in Hamburg, before leaving Germany. Then her plans are open until she sails for home arriving in New York about December 1.

Chris will also be in New York at this time, his army service completed, and he and Mona will drive back to Carmel in time for Christmas, the first Christmas the whole Henry Williams family will have had together since Chris left for Germany.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How spiritual perception of the true nature of man brings growth and progress will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Man" will include the following from Acts (17:24, 25): "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (203:13): "Spiritual perception brings out the possibilities of being, destroys reliance on aught but God, and so makes man the image of his Maker in deed and in truth."

New Music, Language And Art Classes Open

School instructors.

A sign-up for an unusual music appreciation class, under the direction of John Farr, is being taken. As soon as the necessary equipment is installed in the new music room at the high school this class will be started. The musical scores will be projected upon a screen so the class can follow the score as the music is played.

Other music classes include community chorus directed by Gilbert Boyer and Angie Machado, mixed chorus with John Farr as director, and symphony orchestra conducted by Gregory Millar.

The arts and crafts department, featuring local artists and craftsmen, will continue to offer classes in charcoal portraiture with Kay Rogers as instructor; color and design, Clarence Bates; driftwood sculpture, Mrs. Helen Snyder, jewelry I and II, Kenneth Wiese; machine woodworking, Howard Byrne; pottery, Robert Lynn; sketching and painting, Charles Lee; and weaving, Margaret Gerber. A new class in outdoor painting is offered under the direction of Clarence Bates. This class will meet on Monday and Wednesday afternoons at the Bay School. For newcomers in the area this is the little red school house on the ocean side of Highway 1 as you go south toward Point Lobos.

Other subjects offered are: typing, Nihla Knight; citizenship and U. S. History, John Campbell; driver education, Alan Aldwell and John Campbell; parent nursery school, Rosa Doner; sewing, Mary Dickinson; English for new Americans, Frederick Baldus; poetry writing, Mrs. Olivia Young; and physical conditioning for women, Mrs. Hilda Morlang.

Additional information may be obtained from the schedule printed in this issue of the Pine Cone on this page or by calling at the adult school office on Tuesday evening, which is located at Sunset School.

his conviction with a no vote. The other councilmen, including Councilman Whitaker, voted yes.

"This disturbs me," said Mayor Lyon.

"It disturbs me, too," countered Councilman Whitaker, "but unless we amend the ordinance to the original again there isn't much we can do."

The television amplifiers, masked with grapestake fences, are to be placed at the east side of Casanova Street between Eighth and Ninth; north side of Santa Lucia between Camino Real and Carmelo; the southeast corner of Viscaino and Mountain View.

The tax rate for 1957-58 was set at $1.02, two cents higher than last year; twenty-two cents higher than the year before.

Carl Patnude and Francis Whitaker attempted to hold the rate to last year's $1.00. The preliminary budget had called for $1.02 but the council had pared down the items of operating expense and purchases of equipment until $1.00 would suffice. Then City Clerk Larry Rose insisted on holding the $1.02 rate anyway, putting the $2400 budget parings toward the Murphy property purchase. Councilman Patnude said the money for the Murphy property purchase is assured but the other three councilmen went along with Clerk Rose.

The council said no to August Nieto, president of the Carmel Business Association, who asked permission for the association to light two more trees in the center planting of Ocean Avenue for Christmas. This happens every year, though generally not so early. Carmel's community Christmas tree, the pine at Junipero and Ocean Avenue, is strung with lights by the street department crew on December 15. For years this was all. The various city councils did not want a "Christmas tree row" down Ocean Avenue. But the merchants kept asking and several years ago the council gave in to the extent of lighting another pine at Monte Verde and Ocean. "And that was to be it," Councilman Whitaker reminded Mr. Nieto. "I've heard many favorable comments because Carmel is not garish at Christmas time like so many other towns," said Mayor Lyon.

Blood Drawing Set For September 12

Cross Chapters participating in the program have agreed to increased quotas for future blood drawings. The Carmel quota has been raised from 90 to 120 pints for each drawing, which quota will be a more realistic figure in relation to that of the number of pints of blood used at our hospital.

Any person willing to give blood, at the September 12 drawing, who has not been contacted by the recruitment committee may make an appointment by calling the local Chapter at MA 4-6921.

BACH MUSIC

Recording of Bach Festival music made by Bernard Weitz will be played at the Carmel Craft Studios on Friday evening at 8:00. This is a request repeat performance of the August 2 program presented by Mr. Weitz.

Included in the recorded concert are outstanding presentations of this year's festival such as the Gabriele canzons for three brass choirs; Bach's concerto in C major for two harpsichords and orchestra; Pfeiffer's concerto in A major for viola da gamba and orchestra; Haydn's Symphony 102 in B flat major; and Schuetz' Fili mi Absolon.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Right To Work Petition Is Confidential

call a public hearing and listen to both pro and con arguments, Mayor Lyon said.

A union representative requested that if the "right-to-work" ordinance comes to a public hearing the central labor council be notified so that it can have representation at the meeting. He was assured that the labor representatives would be informed.

The "right-to-work" petition, circulated last week by a citizens group, is the outgrowth of resentment against picketing of the Blue Bird Restaurant since July. Point of dispute: The Restaurant, Hotel Employees and Bartenders Union maintain that when the restaurant changed hands last April the new owners were bound by a contract the union held with the former owner. Since the circulation of the petition the pickets have been withdrawn and the union representatives say they will seek court action.
